ADNA advised Resolute Mining on the acquisition of the Doropo and ABC Gold Projects Côte d'Ivoire from AngloGold Ashanti for USD150 million cash consideration and transfer of Resolute's Guinean exploration permits to AngloGold, marking a key expansion into one of West Africa's most established mining jurisdictions.

With this acquisition, Resolute reinforces its ambition to grow production and strengthen its operational footprint across West Africa.

Sydney Domoraud, who led the ADNA team, commented: "We are proud to have advised Resolute Mining on this transformative acquisition, which not only strengthens its presence in West Africa but also aligns with its long-term growth strategy. Supporting Resolute in securing two high-potential assets in a key mining jurisdiction like Côte d'Ivoire demonstrates our firm's commitment to delivering strategic legal counsel on complex, cross-border transactions in the mining sector."

The team was led by partner Sydney Domoraud, assisted by associates Christina Karaouni and Sigismond Konan.
